

COMENIUS INTERNATIONAL WEEK IN BARCELONA:

Education in the 21st Century: Working with languages, ecosystems and inclusivity at school

22-26 April 2024

Presentation

Educational innovation has become a great challenge for schools and teachers in all European countries. Innovation has contributed to improve our teaching practices; in Catalonia many schools are trying to face the new educational changes. We will learn to work with languages from a plurilingual perspective, encompass inclusive education and understand educational ecosystems during your stay in Barcelona.

You will have the chance to visit some of the pioneering schools in educational innovation. These visits, along with workshops and conferences, will offer you the opportunity to bridge the gap between school practice and your university studies.

Goals

- To participate and exchange experiences and knowledge with students and teachers from different universities and countries.
- To get to know the main challenges in schools of the XXIst century through workshops and visits to schools.
- To discover some outstanding places of Barcelona and the Catalan culture.
