KdG International week for students : Democracy – the power of your voice

What does democracy mean to you?

What is the meaning of the European Union?

How do we make our voices heard?

How do we deal with different opinions?

Can we use art to express ourselves?

KdG International week Democracy - The power of your voice

The concept

Fifteen students from the teacher training programme from KdG will be exploring the topic “Is democracy in danger?” throughout the academic year. During the international week, they will join you in searching for the meaning of democracy. How do you deal with different opinions? How do you make your voice heard? And can art be used as an ideal means of expression? Expect serious and slightly less serious workshops. We will explore Antwerp and, of course, visit Brussels. Our ultimate goal for the week is to create a sense of European connection.

ECTS: 2 credits

Practical information

Start: Monday 23th – 9.30 am

End: Friday 27th – 12.30 pm

Antwerp is easily accessible by train. Please visit trainline.com for options. If you prefer to fly, Brussels Airport Zaventem is the best option. From there, it is a short train ride to our city.

Arrive on Sunday 22nd as classes start on Monday.

Some of our own students are happy to offer you accommodation. If you are interested, please let us know when you register and we will see if there is a match. There are several inexpensive accommodation options in Antwerp. Check here for inspiration. It is in Dutch, but it can help you get started.

You are responsible for your own travel expenses, accommodation, and meals. Participation costs €50, which covers the excursions, materials, and one evening meal.

Language: minimum B1 in English
